The fire swept across the alley known as Baker Street and burned the large publishing house of the American Book Company at the corner of Baker Street, and other property along Baker Street, and did great damage to the telephone building, so that all telephones in the city were cut off for some time. All the guests in the burned house on Vine Street, just across from the telephone building, were called out of their rooms, as were those at the Gibson, the Emery and Stag Hotels, which were in close proximity to the fire.

WIRES OUT OF COMMISSION.

The Kankukee building, which is diagonally across from the Seasongood building and Pike Opera House, and is occupied by the Western Union, the Associated Press, the Big Four and other offices, was threatened, and all the wires of the Western Union for hours were in danger, but this location was spared after narrow escape.

danger, but this location was spared after narrow escape.

There were many narrow escapes. Night Walchman John Agin and Mat Garretson and Harry Richardson, doorkeeper, saved six lives by entering the building and forcing their way through the smoke and rescuing lodgers. Five men were asleep in a rear room of the Pike building when they were rescued by having their doors broken in. They were John Mulvern, B. W. Zeigler, H. C. Storey, J. F. McDonald and W. C. Ashkher. All escaped in their night-clothes. Agin, Richardson and Garretson proceeded through the building, giving the alarm to all, until they had to be helped out of the structures themselves.

CINCINNATI FIRE SWEPT

More Than Half Best Square in City Destroyed.

THE LOSS OVER A MILLION

May be as High as Twice That fum There Was No Loss of Life So Far as Is Known Though Two Persons Are Reported Missing.

CINCINNATI, O., February 26.—More than one-half of the best square in Cinsquare bounded by Vine, Fourth, Walnut and Third Streets, including the Pike building and Opera House, was conceded to be the most solidly constructed portion of the city. That half north of Baker Alley, with the exception of the Carlisle building, at the southwestern corner of Fourth and Walnut Streets, is while the American Book Company's publication house, the Woodrow Printing Works, the Zumbriel box factory and other concerns on the south side of Baker Alley, are also burned out.

The fire was discovered at 1:30 A. M.

and it was 1:30 P. M. before it was fully under control, although the entire free department of this city and the fire department of this city and the fire departments of surrounding towns were constantly pouring dozens of streams on the conflagration. There are a score or more streams still pouring on the smoking ruins to-night, and they will keep it up all night. While the property loss is the largest in the history of the city by fire, it is believed there was no loss of life, although two men who lodged in the Pike Opera House building are still missing to-night. John Keenan and Joseph Schaefer, who were badly hurt while escaping from burning buildings, are reported to-night as resting well. Several forces of firemen who were caught on the roofs of burning buildings, are reported to-night as resting well. Several forces of firemen who were caught on the roofs of burning buildings, are reported to-night as resting well. Several forces of firemen who were caught on the scapes, but all were rescued by ladders.

Manager Hunt, of the Pike Operaliouse, secured Robinson's Opera House believed the fire well to the door. The fire was discovered in the cellar of George Joffee's grocery in the Pike building on Fourth Street between Vine and Walnut. An hour later there was an explosion, supposed to come from liquors in storage and the flames soon afterwards shot up through the roof of the six-story stone front building and from that time on for several hours the fire was beyond control. The Pike building was totally destroyed, including the office of the United States Express Company, the Adams Express Company, White's restaurant, owned by Maynard and Kerr, George Joffee's grocery; John B. Martin's. Restaurant, Duppon's confectionery, Henry Strauss' clars store and the offices of the Pike Theatre Company on the first floor, the Pike Theatre auditorium and green rooms and other offices on the second floor and all of the offices on the second floor and fifth floors.

The Seasongood building, adjoining the pike building on the west, at the corner of Vine and Fourth Streets, was badly damaged.

OTHER BUILDINGS.

The building adjoining the Pike building on the east, owned by L. B. Harrison state, and occupied by the Robert Clarke Tompany, publishers, and Duhne Brothers, jewslers, on the first floor, and others in the apper stories, was totally destroyed. The Fosdick building, east of the Rob-

Revolutionary Methods Are Adopted in the House.

BUTLER WAS UNSEATED

Not Recognize Demand for a Division-Democrats Conduct Vigorous Filibuster.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., February 26,Amid scenes which recalled the memora ble and exciting days of the Fifty-first Congress, when party feeling ran flercely and the Hall of Representatives resounded with denunciation of the alleged "highhanded methods" of the majority, James J. Butler, of Missouri, was unscated today by the House, and George C. R. Wagoner was seated in his place. The Democrats had decided at their caucus this morning that if this case was called up they would prosecute a fulbuster from now until March 4th, regardless of consequences to legislation, and they began the fight as soon as the gavel feli at noon. Roll-call followed roll-call, and it took over three hours to approve the journal of yesterday's proceedings. Then when the decks were cleared the case was called. A spirited debate of two hours followed, and inally, after repeated roll-calls, the case was brought to a vote. The Democrats then attempted to block things by leaving the hail, but enough absentees finally were brought in to make up the necessary quorum. The closing chapter was dramatic. Mr. Dalzell, of Pennsylvania, who was in the closing chapter was dramatic, Mr. Dalzell, of Pennsylvania, who was in the clair, declined to recognize a demand for a division, and Mr. Richardson, the minority leader, stood in his place and denounced his course in unmeasured terms, amid the jeers of the Republican side. The handful of Democrats present were overridden roughshod and Mr. Wagoner was seated by a vote of lel to 2, the chair declining to entertain the point that no quorum was present. This still further aroused the ire of the handful of Democrats on the floor.

FIGHT TO DEATH.

"I did not believe the chair would be goity of such an action," cried Mr. Richardson, while Mr. Williams (Democrat), of Illinois, from his seat shouted that the Speaker had put a proxy in the chair to do it. Mr. Wagoner, the contestant, then was escorted to the bar of the House and sworn in. Then the Speaker resumed the chair, and Mr. Payne, the majority leader, moved a recess until to-morrow, and on that demanded the previous question. It was ordered, 163 to 5, the Speaker this time overruling the point of no quorum. By a vote of 173 to 2 the House then took a recess. consequences to legislation, and they began the fight as soon as the gavel fell time overruling the point of no quorum. By a vote of 173 to 2 the House then took a recess.

The Republican leaders, in deciding to force this case to a vote, did so with a perfect realization of the embarrassment which would follow if the Democrats carried out their filibustering threat, and they have arranged a programme to reduce the minority's obstructive power to a minimum, so far as appropriation bills are concerned. This is to be accomplished by a special rule, which has been tentatively prepared, by which all the preliminary parliamentary steps for getting appropriation bills with Senate amendments into conference can be cut off. But later this afternoon Republicais literested in the omnibus public building bill threatened to vote against the rule unless it made provision for the bill. This disturbing factor in the situation was not straightened out to-night.

The Republican programme also includes a proposition to continue the legislative day of to-day until noon of March 4th, in order to obviate the long and tedious work of approving the journal against filibustering tactics. A recess was taken to-night until 11 o'clock to-morrow, and a rule has been prepared which hereafter will give a motion to recess precedence over a motion to adjourn. Under the operation of these drastic measures it is believed that none of the appropriation bills or other necessary measures will be jeopardized, but the present situation undoubtedly sounds the death knell of many minor measures.
